Suddenly a severe earthquake shook the place, rocking the prison to its foundation. Immediately all the doors flew open and everyone’s chains pulled loose. When the jailer woke up and found the doors wide open, he drew his sword and was about to commit suicide, presuming that the prisoners had escaped. But Paul shouted, “Do not harm yourself! We are still here.” The jailer called for a light, and then rushed in and fell trembling at the feet of Paul and Silas. after a brief interval and led them out and asked them, “?” They answered, “Believe in Jesus the Savior, and you will be saved, you and everyone in your household.” They proceeded to preach the word of God to the jailers and his whole household. At the late hour of the night he took them and bathed their wounds; then he and his whole household were baptized. He led them up into the house, spread a table before them; and the whole family joyfully celebrated their new found faith in God. The Inclusive Bible, the First Egalitarian Translation

Find question missing in the scriptures. You may use your Bible.
Unscramble words, and solve the question. Ask yourself the question. Give your response to question in the space provided below.

Write the question here: ________________________________________________

What must YOU do to be saved? ________________________________________

After enjoying the lectionary-based activities, please go to www.SPIRITSEASONS.COM for more lessons.