As a congregation of the United Church of Christ, we recognize the importance of promoting justice and peace throughout the world, in our nation, in our community, and in ourselves. We therefore covenant among ourselves and with God to seek the ways of justice and peace in order to make a difference in our lives and the lives of all who experience injustice and violence.

In order to promote peace with justice, we agree:

- To include regularly in our corporate worship prayers for justice and peace;
- To occasionally focus worship services and/or special events on justice and peace through scripture, prayer, responsive readings, sermons, special offerings, or speakers, where appropriate;
- To act individually and as a faith community as a people dedicated to promoting justice and peace as expressions of God’s love;
- To encourage and support our members concerning God’s call to further justice and peace in volunteering for programs of justice-seeking and peacemaking; and
- To have our Church Council, Pastor, Board of Deacons, and Board of Missions and Outreach encourage participation in the principles of this covenant.

Responding to a pronouncement from General Synod 15 of the United Church of Christ, we covenant to do this in our efforts to be faithful to God’s call in Jesus Christ to seek the ways of peace with justice as a congregation.
